

ABOUT TENSTEP

TenStep helps companies implement their goals and strategies through the successful execution of projects. We do this in two ways.

- Our consulting services help organizations establish an environment where projects are successful. This includes helping set up and run PMOs, methodology customization and deployment, portfolio optimization, strategic planning, contract staffing, and much more.
- Our training services build competencies for project managers, company managers and team members. We have an extensive curriculum of over 50 fundamental and advanced classes.

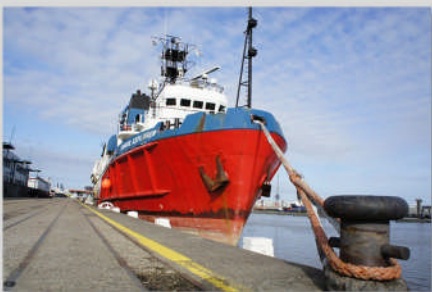

We believe that if your organization processes are aligned to support projects, plus you have well skilled project managers, you will have an increased likelihood of success on your projects.

Our services are, in turn, grounded on a set of methodology products covering project management, PMOs, portfolio management and more. We can support purchased methodologies or those that have been developed in-house.

International companies can use us to deliver a consistent set of products and services almost anywhere in the world through our global network of over 50 offices supporting over 25 languages.

We offer specific Project Pilot services to help your projects and programs achieve success more quickly.
